

I'll Praise Your Holy Name

Nicole C. Mullen

If I could write melodies
To tell You how much I love You
It would be endless
It would be priceless

If I could buy You rubies
Or if I could buy You gold
What would it profit
If Your story went untold

But I've much rather give You praise
And Your banner forever I'll raise
As long as I live
I'll praise Your holy name

If I could take the wings
Of an early mornin' bird
And sail to a place
That no ones ever heard
You'll still be there
I'd be in Your care

If I could hold the world
In the palms of my hand
Without the Savior
See I know I could not stand

So I've much rather lift hands to You
And Your will forever I'll do
As long as I live
I'll praise Your holy Praise Your holy
Praise Your holy name
