

Fool Me Again

Nicolette Larson

Here I am making life I'm over you when I know I am not that strong and there you are saying that it's easy to when days like these they seldom come along

and look at me
pretending I can say goodbye when even if I could
if I would well
I could lie and say I'm leaving but I'd just be fooling me again there's so much I still believe in
fool me again

And if I knew
I could get away from you I let you go and not hold on and if you said
let you didn't love me then tomorrow you would wake and find me gone

pretending I can say goodbye when
even if I could
if I would well
but I'd just be fooling me again
there's so much I still believe in
fool me again

but I'd just be fooling me again
there's so much I still believe in
fool me again
I could lie and say I'm leaving
but I'd just be fooling me again
there's so much I still believe in
fool me again
