

Reflected Lights' Garden

Niobeth

A shine fell, walked in darkness lighting up other lights lost through time

Star from the sky
don't you cry more,
don't let the darkness in the world make you forget where you come from

The world is a mirror, you look at yourself in you don't believe innocence's been lost

Sad and small I walk, today I will be the sparkle of a lost reflection maybe tomorrow I will shine

Star from the sky
don't you cry more,
don't let the darkness in the world
make you forget where you come from

Only your delicate innocence makes bloom true magic hidden in others.

I walk in shadows,
today I will be the sparkle of a lost reflection,
maybe tomorrow I will shine

Please Remember.
Lost Light, shine for us, shine for you, shine!

don't you cry more,

Dreaming forever, there's no dust left to make me fly

Awake to fly, the moment has come to shine one last time

No ways to light up,
today I will be the sparkle of a lost reflection,
maybe tomorrow I will shine.

Shine for you, shine
