Niykee Heaton

Never been with someone I can't live without Lately when it comes around they let me down
Don't let me down, mm
And I wanna let you know I'm so afraid
To let you sink into me like a rattlesnake
Lord save me now
You can rip my sheets, but don't rip my heart
Fragile inside but the odds aren't hard
Paint myself twice just to hide my scars
'Cause I need it, yeah, I need it

Ruin my lipstick, ruin my bed
Ruin the hair upon my head
But don't you ever ruin my mascara
Ruin my body everynight
Ruin my dress and not my life
But don't you ever ruin my mascara, ooh

You got that thing that bring the devil out of me
So if you're the master, I'm the masterpiece
Lord save me now
And you take my breath and you won't let me breathe now, oh
But you like when I let it all out

Ruin my lipstick, ruin my bed
Ruin the hair upon my head
But don't you ever ruin my mascara
Ruin my body everynight
Ruin my dress and not my life
But don't you ever ruin my mascara, ooh

I spent too much, spent too much time on my make-up
So don't you, so don't you ruin my make-up
No, I look too good in this shit
I spent too much, spent too much time on my make-up
So don't you, so don't you ruin my make-up
No, I look too good in this shit

Ruin my lipstick, ruin my bed
Ruin the hair upon my head
But don't you ever ruin my mascara
Ruin my body everynight
Ruin my dress and not my life
But don't you ever ruin my mascara, ooh
