

Passing

No Omega

I see the world as a passing train
I love you insane
Couldn't let go of the thought
Of everything exploding
You keep destroying the environment
You keep destroying our lives
What i want is for you to know
And somehow you will let go

You will let go
Of everything you do
That destroys this planet
That destroys lives

I wish someone could tell me what's going on Someone who's been paying more attention to the story

My eyes are empty
I can't stop shaking
From feeling so numb
To the world
You created

A tilted scale of good and bad
Right and completely wrong
And you're slipping
Slipping further down
Wish there was a way back
That you showed signs of change

Nothing gets better
All thoughts of my utopia are forever gone

I'd paint you a picture
Of what it's all like
But all I would paint is a noose
Slowly being tied

My eyes are empty
I can't stop shaking
From feeling so numb
To the world
You created

And yet again, I hang my head
And yet again, I hang my head
in the deepest of shame
