Nocturnus

Nocturnus

There's a land in ancient history Born of an evil prophecy Where the Lord of Darkness Rules all that will be

Chorus:

Nocturnus will rise by a spell I'll devise with hate in their eyes the good we despise

(first two lines indecipherable)
The land of good will fall the power to break heaven's walls

(Repeat chorus)

A Dark City Appears before Heaven's Gate Millions of Demons already Await Spectres filled with hate to give God his fate

(Repeat chorus)

then the demons began to attack; it's the ultimate fight between good and evil

The battle is done Nocturnus has won to put out the sun Darkness has won