

The Malachi Crunch

NOFX

Did you get that rush, that feeling, adrenalin pumping through your veins?

a lifeless body in the gutter, city streets are stained how do you rationalize, what do you see in your reflection?
a kid just having fun, a soldiers bloodied boot impression

One for all and all for one, especially when it's ten on one you don't care what you're doing, you know it sure is fun if it happened to you mother would you laugh so hard?
well, that was someone's son or brother that you kicked so hard

But this time you went too far (you went too far) what's the matter, don't you feel alright?
do you feel remorse?
or are the handcuffs on a little too tight?

Now that your friends are gone, you've got no defense, no protection

5 or 6 times a day you receive your hot beef injection
I hope every time you're cornholed terror fills your mind the one emotion you have inspired one too many times
