

Breaking my patience
I'm coming undone
I hate to say it
But we've barely begun

And my mind can't stop from shaking
I feel the earth under my knees
The blood of a sinner
Draining from me

Shining, your hair
Like water in my hands
Shining, your head
Like water in my hands

I've got a heart like a silver dollar
I may be smart but I'll never change
And I might sparkle in the right light
But I'm always worth the same

You know I used up all of my chances
Making a fool of myself again
And I might hate myself in the morning
But I'll do it anyway

It's such a shame, to break it
It's such a shame, mmh
It's such a shame, mmh
It's such a shame, mmh
