When Freedom Dies

Nuclear Assault

United in a time, a time of need Against a common foe, the enemy The years of death endured, the years of pain Against an evil force, a force not sane

We become the enemy
When freedom dies for security

And then the world endured, a victory won Against an insane man and his cohorts But once the war was done, blind fear prevailed And years of darkness came, freedom was nailed

We become the enemy When freedom dies for security

We let our freedom die, we let it wane We feared an enemy's atomic rain But what was on our minds, what we became We and the enemy We are the same

We become the enemy
When freedom dies for security
We become the enemy
When freedom dies for security