

Find Your Escape

Number One Gun

I've got a common question
Burning up in my head.
But I won't listen,
I won't do this again.

Your gonna bury yourself tonight.
You're standing up straight
Till the morning light,
And nothing's forever.
You're getting better.

This city's gonna half fall.
Not enough to keep the walls from coming down.
You have to believe in yourself.
You better up and find an escape.
Leave it all and let the concept in your mind
Accept that this is the way it goes.

What'd you wish for,
What'd you wish for again?

A simple reason,
A simple reason instead.

Your gonna bury yourself tonight.
You're standing up straight
Till the morning light,
And nothing's forever.
You're getting better.

This city's gonna half fall.
Not enough to keep the walls from coming down.
You have to believe in yourself.
You better up and find an escape.
Leave it all and let the concept in your mind
Accept that this is the way it goes.

This is the way it goes.
The way it goes.
And believe it's all right.

This city's gonna half fall.
Not enough to keep the walls from coming down.
You have to believe in yourself.

This city's gonna half fall.
Not enough to keep the walls from coming down.
Accept that this is the way it goes.
You better up and find an escape.
Leave it all and let the concept in your mind.
You have to believe in yourself.
