

Tension

Nural

Can you feel the tension in the air
Assuring you once again I'm there
So you break my trust, you break my heart
I break your fall, your fall

So I lied, don't say you've done the same without a smile upon your face
Cause once you've but tasted of this fruit that lay, a serpent swayed your ways
Which brings me to my next thought, walk these roads as crooked as they be
So I lied, and so we lie

Can you feel the tension in the air
Assuring you once again I'm there
So you break my trust, you break my heart
I break your fall

So I lie, this time I face the sky without a smile without a tr ace
And I don't just see blue
I choose to... with still no sign of you Which brings me to my next thought, don't be fooled by the cunning ways of the truth
And so I lied, and so we lie

Weakened knees belong to those who find it hard to believe but so intrigued by the thought of someone somehow meeting thei r needs
By the thought of someone, somewhere meeting our needs

Without tension in the air
Assuring you once again I'm there
You break my trust, you break my heart
I break your fall

Can you feel the tension in the air
Assuring you once again I'm there
Cause you break my trust, you break my heart
I break your fall
