

Grace

Nylon Jail

Pardon me I failed,
I made a big mistake,
I entered a one-way gate,
I ate the rotten cake.

Running through my life,
I passed a lot of holes,
Imagine all my fights,
You'll see I can see ghosts,
Running!

Screaming like a bear,
I spoke to Grace one day,
She was beautiful I swear,
Like foggy dawn in May.

My Grace she was OK,
She let me touch the sky,
She knew just what to say,
She knew when to cry,

Once, I saw my Grace,
She had moonlight in her face
Show me your dirty place now!

She was good like Jesus Christ,
In bed like a dirty whore,
On Sunday I realized,
I'm looking for more.

Suddenly I found,
She's worse than the plague,
The devil on a horse,
Goddamn nobody's safe.

When I saw Grace's eyes,
I ate all her lies,
Gimme some good advice now!
