

Exit Life

Obscura

Black light, flash before my eyes, my dreams are fading
Life of decay, odious visions of the past
I feel a storm crawling through my skin

Death, your shades are waiting

Exit life, enter night

Life has vanished before my eyes
I can feel the end of all days
Time is dying, stops to dwell
Black light, exit life

Blurred my view, blackened my sight
Night is my father, daylight has died
A sun, that has set forever engulfs my burning soul

Gloom and mist have swallowed my mind
Death be my host, I await your salvation

Exit life, enter night

Black light, flash before my eyes, my dreams are fading
Night is my father, daylight has died
A sun, that has set forever engulfs my burning soul

Gloom and mist have swallowed my mind
Death be my host, I await your salvation
Exit life, enter night
