

We ride on cosmic wings, towards this bitter end
As choir of the fallen, we descend
Revealed in silence, merged sublime
Divined eternity, into oblivion

On astral radiating storms towards the end
A halo moulded in celestial divine
Hymn of the nocturnal
A choral of perdition, faith and belief
Salvation of fate, we are glazed in creed

In aeons, revealed in silence splendid and bright
Forsaken - a perennial epitaph
Abandoned - a world blazed in cosmic fire eclipsed

Deliverance in shivered flesh
Secluded, sole detached maelstrom infinite
In allegiance we preach the sermon
In eternal night, perpetual bliss, the nemesis of worlds

In aeons, revealed in silence splendid and bright
Forsaken - a worthless entity
Dissolving - a convergent form of stars
