

Deadweight

Oceans Ate Alaska

This empty space
It overwhelms me
Invokes the darkness from inside
I fear I'm loosing my mind

Follow this compass
That's occupies my chest
It always leads me back to you
It always leads me back to you

You have this pull on me
A force that flows
From deep beneath the surface
You are my gravity
You are my gravity

Set ablaze like a wildfire the day our worlds collide
I can't expect you to forget
You're moving mountains for me
When all I do is bring you pain

With open arms
I shall accept my fall from grace

With open arms
I shall accept my fall from grace
With open arms
I shall accept my fall from grace

With open arms I'll accept my fate
I'll accept my fate

I'm nothing but deadweight
I'm nothing but deadweight

Set ablaze like a wildfire the day our worlds collide
I can't expect you to just forget
You're moving mountains for me
When all I do is bring you pain
All I ever do, is bring you pain
