

Downsides

Oceans Ate Alaska

Life's not as bad as you make it out to be.
Reach out... The world is at your feet.
You can't dwell on your feelings,
In a city that never sleeps.
Stop dreaming. Start believing in yourself.
Wake the fk up, break through the walls.
Drop your fears. Control was never lost, it's always been here.
I'm walking on thin lines of broken glass every night.
You have no idea, you have no idea...
About all the fked up shit that runs through my mind.
Keep your head up son and look on the bright side.
Stop weighing up the downsides of life and you'll be just fine.
In this concrete jungle, you've got to fight to stay alive,
Burn bridges in order to survive.
Opportunity is your only ally,
And shut your mouth it's your only alibi.
But the worst part about this,
Is I can't fully describe it.
These problems and issues - are not mine.
I can't help you,
It's up to you.
Stop dreaming and start believing.
Show no weakness and hide your feelings.
I'm walking on thin lines of broken glass every night.
You have no idea, you have no idea...
About all the fked up shit that runs through my mind.
Keep your head up son and look on the bright side.
Stop weighing up the downsides of life and you'll be just fine.
