

Breed Siamese

Oceansize

For a ghost you are too visible you shine for all the world to see What fails you to be so miserable For all the things that used to be

There's nothing to ask you

Bleed myself blind over this ill bleed myself
read them and weep half a mind we only need half a mind

you say the right answers and shine a light inside of me

A candle lit another days gone I lose some rationality I sing into a negative song that points its fingers back at me

There's nothing to ask you

this ill bleed myself
read them and weep half a mind

and shine a light inside of me don't have a whatever say and breedin siamese

There's nothing to ask you

I'm done for the now we will be siamese when we can foresee through the fog there's a voice that keeps me keepin on no innocence lost just a cherry flavoured chance my little saviour ill bleed your blood you be and be

Just like i never did just like i never could take right in tonight ill
