

The surgery took no time
I had it before Friday
A test in elocution
For better an accomplice

We'll all survive
Tonight
Spill out
The summer

Honesty and intention
Cross and execution
Cigarettes and Prozac
Blinker in my vision

But if we'd have started years ago
Would we still be here today?
And I swim without the innocence
You took from me
Am I a card to play?
Or throw away?

Away, some way

Lost at noughts and crosses
Dance, dance, ticking glasses
Let me through the window
Tell them nothing happened

But if we'd have started years ago
Would we still be here today?
As we toss the coin, it falls
Curse the little lies
But we never took the picture
And if all this gets to your heart
And time starts standing still
Then I'll wave the wand of innocence
While you repeat
The ??? ought to have, but ???
