

Broken Generation

Of Mice & Men

He sits and he waits,
Feeling broken and hollow.
Hands held close to his face,
Screaming why do I bother?
They'll just tear me down,
Rip me apart, cast aside like a sinner,
With no words from the wise.

Will you ever learn?
Will you ever learn?
Will you ever learn?
Learn to listen!

Can you hear them calling?
You'll testify to justify,
You have to find a way!
Can you hear them calling?
With arcane eyes you're staring back
At someone with no face!
Can you hear them calling?

She lies there in wait,
And feeling so hollow.
Can't find love in this place,
Left alone with her sorrow.
All the promises you made when you
Stood by her side were so broken,
When you threw it away.

Will you ever learn?
Will you ever learn?
Will you ever learn?
Learn to listen!

Can you hear them calling?
You'll testify to justify,
You have to find a way!
Can you hear them calling?
We'll mobilize, not pacify
To save another day.
Can you pick up all the pieces of this broken generation?
(Broken generation)
Can you hear them calling?

The road to hell is paved in good intentions and apathy,
What did you expect when common sense is your enemy?
I'd rather burn alive than drown inside your reality.
Can you hear me? Are you listening?

Can you hear them calling?
You'll testify to justify,
You have to find a way!
Can you hear them calling?
We'll climb the walls to
Scratch the sky to save another day.
Can you pick up all the pieces of this broken generation?
(Pick up all the pieces of this broken generation)

Can you hear them calling?
