

Waiting for the Snow

Of Monsters and Men

I'm waiting for the snow
I'm waiting for a vision
So I can feel brighter
I can feel lighter

I used to make mountains
But then they grew bigger than me
I thought that I'd climb my way up high
But what if I tumble?

Have I said too much
Did I love too hard
This steel can't carry me now
That things are rough

I used to make mountains
But then they grew bigger than me
And I used to hunger
So what can you offer me
(What can you offer me)
What can you offer me
When you are all symphony
What can you offer me

Have I said too much
Did I love too hard
This steel can't carry me now
That things are rough

Have I said too much
Did I love too hard
This steel can't carry me now
That things are rough

(What can you offer me)
Now what can you offer me
(So what can you offer me)
Now what can you offer me

This steel can't carry me
And you can't carry me, carry me
