

I Love You Will Still Sound The Same

Oh Honey

Could you see yourself
Growing old with me,
Watchin' my head turn to grey?
Could you live with me
In my mistakes,
And the ones I have yet to make?

So when our eyes have seen their better days
And our hearing starts to fade
Put your arms 'round my neck, and your heart on my chest
"I Love You" will still sound the same
"I Love You" will still sound the same

Hey yea ey ey yea ey ey
Hey yea ey ey yea
Hey yea ey ey yea ey ey
"I Love You" will still sound the same
"I Love You" will still sound the same

I can see our dreams,
Inside of a child
Long after ours fade away.
When our rings start to rust
And our skin starts to age
Remember the promise we made.

So when our eyes have seen their better days
And our hearing starts to fade
Put your arms 'round my neck, and your heart on my chest
"I Love You" will still sound the same
"I Love You" will still sound the same

Hey yea ey ey yea ey ey
Hey yea ey ey yea
Hey yea ey ey yea ey ey
"I Love You" will still sound the same
"I Love You" will still sound the same

When bills pile up
And time tests our love
We'll stay forever in love.
We'll stick to our guns
Our grip won't loosen up
When we say forever ain't enough.

So when our eyes have seen their better days
And our hearing starts to fade
Put your arms 'round my neck, and your heart on my chest
"I Love You" will still sound the same
"I Love You" will still sound the same

Hey yea ey ey yea ey ey
Hey yea ey ey yea
Hey yea ey ey yea ey ey
"I Love You" will still sound the same
"I Love You" will still sound the same
