

Half the girl

Ohm Square

Save me from myself cos I've started feeling half the girl I have done

Looks like I need help, cos my hands are trembling I don't want the dark

And I cry, don't know why

Savoury baby born to love me

under cover sweet my lover

Save me from myself cos I've started feeling half the girl I did

Looks like I need help, cos my hands are trembling I don't want the dark

Can't hold back the water in my eyes

Do as you would have done unto your self

Constantly been looking for my angel in the background

Talking 'bout hanging up my cross and quitting while I'm ahead

Angry cos I never had a voice when I was baptised

I'd rather be in heaven with the comments in the back of my mind

Angel/Endure/Enjoy

Save me from me

Save me from myself

Save me from everybody else
