

Everyday

Orianthi

What were my life with the colors of rainbow
Before it was just black and white
You take my hand and leave me feel the hard times
And days were just passing me by
And it's right

It's something about the way you look at me
With those bright blue eyes
It's something about the way you talk to me
I don't even know why
And I can't
I can't explain it
And I
I don't understand it

When you're taking me into the sun from the rain
And my life begins with you everyday
Every now and then
I feel like I really need you
And I'm feeling so in love with you my
Yeah my baby

You show me like I never knew the real meaning
Of what it was to really be free
Out of the darkness and into the daylight
Now that I can finally see
What it's like

It's something about the way you look at me
With those bright blue eyes
Yes it is
It's something about the way you talk to me
I don't even know why
And I can't
I can't explain it
And I
I don't understand it

When you're taking me into the sun from the rain
And my life begins with you everyday
Every now and then
I feel like I really need you
And I'm feeling so in love with you my
Yeah my baby

You were with me through the hard times
Love like this takes forever to find
You are the light, counting my way
And teaching me everyday, yeah yeah
Everyday

And I can't
I can't explain it
And I
I don't understand it

When you're taking me into the sun from the rain

And my life begins with you everyday
Every now and then
I feel like I really need you
And I'm feeling so in love with you my
Yeah my baby
