

Sinners Hymn

Orianthi

There's no answers to your prayers when you're a sinner
There's no street lights on the road of regret
And the black dog won't stop howling at your window
Till you drink what's left of that bottle by your bed
And sing the sinners hymn
The sinners hymn, the sinners hymn

Hey, hey
Can anybody hear what you say
Hey, hey
Does anybody care anyway
Hey, hey
Never do right
Gotta do wrong
Black out the lights
You're too far gone

You leave a trail of broken souls in every city
Let hearts burn out like cigarettes on the floor
And you think you can escape under the light of the moon
But the ghosts keep coming back and knocking at your door

Hey, hey
Can anybody hear what you say
Hey, hey
Does anybody care anyway
Hey, hey
Never do right
Gotta do wrong
Black out the light
You're too far gone

Hey, hey
Can anybody hear what you say
Hey, hey
Does anybody care anyway
Hey, hey
Never do right
Gotta do wrong
Black out the light
You're too far gone, too far gone
