

Empty Man

Orla Gartland

I don't remember you at all
Only the shoes that you wore
I've redesigned everything i adore
But you're eyes i can't recall

Blood, bone and metal on the kitchen floor
The manual gripped in my hand
Trying to build everything that i can
Why does noone understand

It's just darkness and me
No substitute love
So i'm dying to be
Back in your love
Back in your love
But you're just an empty man

I don't remember a single edge
Or the shape of your shadow
Your blank DNA holds no memories
Nothing God or science can recall

It's just darkness and me
No substitute love
So i'm dying to be
Back in your love
Back in your love

Ooooooooooh
Ooooooooooh

It's just darkness and me
No substitute love
So i'm dying to be
Back in your love
Back in your love

It's just darkness and me
No substitute love
So i'm dying to be
Back in your love
Back in your love
But you're just an empty man
