

You're Not Special, Babe

Orla Gartland

If you
Could see yourself
From the outside in
You'd say you don't have to be more thin, it's okay
And if you
Could see yourself
From above the sky
I think you'd say that you're doing fine

Life is short until it's not
Honestly it's kinda long
It takes a while to come around
People always let you down
Find the ones that get you
Stick to them like hot glue
Dance if you want to
'Cause you're not special, babe (No!)
I know you feel like your life is one big mistake
I am right there on your side
You're not special, babe (No!)
'Cause we all go from heartbreak to happy to heartbreak
Some things just don't change

You
You're an adult now
Make your own to-do list
And eat whatever you want for breakfast, yeah

Get a job just to get by
Spend your money 'til you die
Some people don't stick around
But, don't let yourself down
Find the ones that get you
Stick to them like hot glue
And dance if you want to

'Cause you're not special, babe (No!)
I know you feel like your life is one big mistake

I am right there on your side
You're not special, babe (No!)
'Cause we all go from heartbreak to happy to heartbreak
Some things just don't change
Dun-dun-dun-dun
Dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun
Dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun
Dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun
Dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun-dun

Everyone cries, everyone lies, everyone hates you
Everyone's so scared of the future, it's true
Everyone f*cks up and then breaks up and then makes up
Everyone has days where they don't wanna wake up
Everyone loves, everyone loses and they're on their own
When everyone else is covered in bruises but we feel alone
And everyone hears us but they all seem to ignore us
Everyone else wants to get right back to the chorus

You're not special, babe (No!)
I know you feel like your life is one big mistake
I am right there on your side
You're not special, babe (No!)
'Cause we all go from heartbreak to happy to heartbreak
Some things just don't change
