

2 Pyramids

Other Lives

Two pyramids
Two pyramids
Reflecting light
My protector, my protector
From the night

Two pyramids
Two pyramids
Reflecting light
My protector, my protector
From the night
From the night

I see the skeleton jump from the skin
I feel this red weather's coming in
Now all my elements to be undone
To become one
To become one

I see this fairweather turning to black
I hear your voices calling us back
Don't want my innocence to be undone
To become one
To become one

To become one
And to become one

Two pyramids
Two pyramids
Reflecting light
My protector
My protector from the night

Two pyramids
Two pyramids
Reflecting light
My protector
My protector
From the night
From the night

And to become one
And to become one
And to become one
And to become one
And to become one
