

Has Anyone Seen My God Damn Dignity?

Otherwise

My ebb & flow, despair to hope, I don't wanna close my eyes,
A new threshold of self-control, an aid to help me otherwise...
There's no solace, there's no peace...

I need the sun to rise over me, in my darkness,
I am the one who taught you to see, can't you see?

Your presence soaks me to the core, just like the sadness of my favorite chords,
The songs we sung no longer soar, to be unheard forever more,
Just let it go...

I need the sun to rise over me, in my darkness,
I am the one who taught you to see, can't you see?

Take my suffering, won't you take my suffering?

There's no solace, there's no...

I need the sun to rise over me, in my darkness,
I am the one who taught you to see, can't you see?
I am the one!
