

It's Growing

Otis Redding

Like a snowball rolling down that side
Of that snow covered hill, man it's growing
Like that size of the fish that man claimed
He broke his reel, man it's growing

Like the rosebud, that's bloomin' man
In the warning of the sun, it's growin'
Like a tale by the time it's been told, man
By more then one, it's growing

When every day it grows a little more
Than it was the day before
My love for you, it grows and grows
Hey, hey, hey, how it grows and grows

But when it's going to stop
I feel that nobody knows, man
I said, it grows and grows, man
A little bit stronger

It grows and grows
A little bit more, every day
It keeps on growing

Like the need of a guy to see his girl
When she's gone away, man it's growing
Like the sadness in his heart
When he knows that she's gone to stay, man it's growing

I said, every day it grows and grows
A little bit more
Than it was before
My love for you, it grows and grows, man
Hey, hey, hey, how it grows and grows

My heart is gonna stop, I feel, man
My heart is gonna stop, I feel
That nobody know man
Hey, hey, hey, man

Nobody know how it grows and grows
Nobody knows it grows and grows
Everyday it gets little bit stronger
And every time it gets little bit stronger
I'm there for you, just keep on growing
