

The Head and Heart

Overkill

I am the head, you are the heart
I am the dead, you are the start
I am the wind, you are the rain

Will you beg for mercy, will you kneel and pray
What will make the nightmares go away (judgement day)
Will you stop pretending, everything's ok
As you drag your bones, another perfect day

Go
I am the dead, you are the heart
I am the dead, you are the start
I am the wind, you are the rain
I've always sinned, you feel the pain

Will you take my sorrow
Will you call my name
Will you be tomorrow
Know the pain

I'm your shadow, curtain call, I keep the hounds at bay
The air you breath is what I choose today
Right behind you, catch your fall, stumble left of light
No pax Romana, now, forever night
