

They Are Beautiful

Paatos

Sweet colours fading into grey
Distorted sounding aeroplanes
While bodies laying torn apart -
How could you do this from your heart?

As feelings slowly fade away
Our hope is to a different day
Sweet colours grow into my mind
This time is of another kind

Children playing games - they are beautiful
Soon they will be gone
Children crying - let us sail away
On the sea they made with their tears deep streams of red, a fire so blue

This place was made for me and you
As blackness slowly fills my heart
I'm wishing for a brand new start

Why so soon?
Why do I feel so lonely?
Fading away, fading away, fading away
Fading away
