

Where Red Paints the Ocean

Paddy and the Rats

Oh, hazel eyes
While you're open
Take care of my breath
All through the night
Without your delight
Life is frozen
Puts all men in fright

In the misty port
I made a promise
I will be home
'Til the boy will be born
I wait in the cold
So I have to do
Everything to be bold

A louring gunfire is
Breaking the silence
As night is fallin' down
And we'll face death
All the night

Far, far away
Where the red paints the ocean
Wash away emotion
While we fight through the night
I say a Hail Mary
Long to get home and
My promise won't be broken
So I must stay alive

Oh, the nasty war
Makes a man cruel
Do everything for
Pride and valour
So I grab my sword
Dip into blood
As I only hear the roar

A louring gunfire is
Breaking the silence
As night is fallin' down
And we'll face death
All the night

Far, far away
Where the red paints the ocean
Wash away emotion
While we fight through the night
I say a Hail Mary
Long to get home and
My promise won't be broken
So I must stay alive

Alive!
Must stay alive!
Alive!

Must stay alive!

A dire cannonball's
Breaking my dreams
As my body's fallin' down
And I won't see that Hazel eyes

Far, far away
Wash away emotion
While we fight through the night
I say a Hail Mary
My promise won't be broken
So I must stay alive

Far, far away
Where the red paints the ocean
Wash away emotion
While we fight through the night
I say a Hail Mary
Long to get home and
So I must stay alive,
Must stay alive,
Must stay alive!
