Look at me, Asleep on the floor, And I think I'm dying

Look at me, I'm battered and sore, And I think I'm dying

Look at me,
Do you hear me God?
'Cuz I could use a hand
To get off the floor
I think I'm dying

There's a place that burns for somethin' else I'll tear this house apart, it's not that hard, I'll keep on lookin' here

Look at me,
A knock on the door,
I'll always come runnin'
Look at you,
You call this a home?
I'd rather be dyin'

There's a place that burns for somethin' else I'll tear this house apart, it's not that hard, I'll keep on lookin' here

There's a place that burns for somethin' else There's a place that burns for somethin' else I'll tear this house apart, it's not that hard, I'll keep on lookin' here
