

Hi, I'm sorry to reach out
Don't feel like you have to call
I just want to say
That I was the wrong one
And I don't blame your choice at all
Believe me that I'm only sorry
And you were right to leave
Someone's gonna make you happy
And I thought it was me but now I know
Someday you'll find him
So please make sure he treats you well

He should hold you like he won't let go
Call you just to hear your voice
He should tell you that you're beautiful
Even when you think you're not
He should hang on every word you say
Kiss you like the world might end
He should love you
Love you
Love you better than I did
I should have loved you better than I did

Hold out for someone
Who knows that you deserve the best
Oh he needs to see
You're something special
So don't settle for any less
Once you get a chance worth taking
To finally get it right
I don't want to complicate it
So this is my goodbye
But please just know
That I hope you find him
And when you do he treats you well

He should hold you like he won't let go
Call you just to hear your voice
He should tell you that you're beautiful
Even when you think you're not
He should hang on every word you say
Kiss you like the world might end
He should love you
Love you
Love you better than I did
I should have loved you better than I did
I should have loved you better than I did

It took some time but
Now I can see it
I couldn't be him
Oh you should have a
A love to believe in
So when you meet him

He should hold you like he won't let go
Call you just to hear your voice

He should tell you that you're beautiful
Even when you think you're not
Oh my chance already came and went
But when you finally give your heart again
He should love you
Love you
Love you better than I did
I should have loved you better than I did
I should have loved you better than I did