

Get To You

Paradise Fears

We had so much time,
Too much love to ever think of running out
Summer air was intoxicating
Filled my lungs but I can't stop breathing
I had to take you home that night
Divide the space between our minds
And find a cure for a heart that's failing
I'm losing sleep but I can't stop dreaming (dreaming...)

I miss the time when I used to know just
Just how it feels to be in over my head
When I would do anything for your love
When we could be anything we wanted
What I'd give to touch your skin
And beg your heart to feel the way it felt back then
So let me in

Now I'm caving in,
Wearing thin,
Sick of always fading out
Got my hands in my pockets, baby
I try to hide it but inside I'm shaking
When you're gone my heart is too,
Masquerading memories of you
Can't pretend that your words don't phase me
Can't pretend that you don't amaze, me

I miss the time when I used to know just
Just how it feels to be in over my head
When I would do anything for your love
When we could be anything we wanted
What I'd give to touch your skin
And beg your heart to feel the way it felt back then
So let me in

And I'll stay perpetually in this state
When your voice is out of reach
And you've got me fighting the seas,
But there's just too much ocean between

I miss the time when I used to know just
Just how it feels to be in over my head
When I would do anything for your love
When we could be anything we wanted
What I'd give to touch your skin
And beg your heart to feel the way it felt back then
So let me, so let me, so let me in
I can't get to you
(So let me in)
I can't get to you
(So let me in)
I can't get to you
