

Talk About It

Paradise Fears

There are things in yourself that you don't understand,
Like why the weight's on your shoulders or phone's in your hand,
But you tell me,

I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
Right now, right now.

There are things in yourself that you don't understand,
Like why you still wanna tell me every time you're with him.

It's been a while, since I wrote a song I liked,
And it's been a few months since you've stayed the night,
And you fooled me once, I guess I fooled myself,
I guess we only use each other just to use ourselves.
But I think the bruise is healed, I think the bruise is healed,
And if you'd only come over we could lose it still,
And when the sun comes up, we'll be looking at each other saying,

I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
Right now, right now.

I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
Right now, right now.

I don't really wanna talk about it
Right now, right now.
I can see you underneath your regret
Right now, right now.
Let's just get a little high and forget,
Right now, right now.
Cause I don't really wanna live without it,
Right now, right now.

But it's been a while since I saw inside your head,
With all the perfect little paintings and blues and reds,
Cause I fooled you once, I guess you fooled yourself,
And now you're scared of what'll happen if you lose yourself,
But I think the bruise is healed, I think the bruise is healed,
And I could kiss your every scar until the wound is sealed,
And when the sun comes up we'll be looking at each other saying,

I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
Right now, right now.

I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
Right now, right now...

I don't know you like I used to,
But when I can't see, you see me through.
I don't know you like I used to,
But when I can't see, you see me through.

I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
I don't really wanna talk about it
Right now, right now. [x2]
