

When You Come Home

Paradise Fears

You may cross the world all by yourself, you tell me that everything you want is somewhere else,
but when you make it back around,
and your shoes are all worn down,
I'll be waiting for you when you come home,

Singing ooh,
If you need some safer ground,
Ooh,
I hope you turn your ship around,

You may spend your time with someone else,
You may say he's everything you wanted for yourself,
He may be perfect now,
But I swear someday he'll walk out,
And I'll be waiting for you when you come home,

Singing ooh,
If you need some safer ground,
Ooh,
I hope you turn your ship around,

You may find yourself out in the stars,
Knowing you, you've probably got a plan for all you want,
But if someday soon,
You're on the dark side of the moon,
Oh I'll be waiting for you when you come home.
