The Afterlife

Paragon

Trapped down here in purgatory
Hypnotized by a force beyond believe
Blurring features - Scaring flesh
I'm all alone as the nightmare begins...

See my life now passing by, images so real The sins I have committed, forever haunting me, All along the road of torture, leave this world behind Fear of the beyond is taking hold of my mind

The Afterlife
This is the Afterlife

A thousand voices call my name They echo through the hall Grasping hands - creaking floorboards Into the void I'm gonna fall

No light at the end of the tunnel No hope at the end of the road Falling into fire Burning in this hell Take me back to reality Someone break the spell
