The Gypsy King

Patrick Wolf

Drawing a line
A ship in a harbour
Yes I will go
I'll be going there soon

A blue map of Cornwall Up on a bedroom wall Drawing a line I'll be following soon

But how do I follow?
What road to be choosing?
Do I follow the star
Or the gypsy king?

I recall when I was younger There was a fire To travel the world And shine with a passion

But as ambition shoots blank Day by Day On a train from Edinburgh To the Kings Cross rain[].

I see a small house
Built on the sea
I could live there alone
With a horse and a ukulele

But how do I get there? What road to be choosing? When the seasons so high For losing

How do I follow What road to be choosing? Do I follow the star Or the Gypsy King?
