

My Jealous Eyes

Patti Page

My jealous eyes, what have you seen?
Why are you turning from blue to green
My lover's arms hold others charms
But they're just dancing

My jealous eyes, you mustn't grieve
Just tell my heart that it must believe
He holds her tight,
But that's all right
They're only dancing

What are they saying,
While they are swaynig?
Oh can it be he's tired of me?

My jealous eyes the dance is thro'
Now you can turn back from green to blue
It's fine again, he's mine again
And he still loves me

My jealous eyes, you mustn't grieve
Just tell my heart that it must believe
He holds her tight,
But that's all right
They're only dancing

What are they saying,
While they are swaynig?
Oh can it be he's tired of me?
My jealous eyes the dance is thro'
Now you can turn back from green to blue
It's fine again, he's mine again
And he still loves me
And he still loves me
