

This close to the dawn

Patti Page

Hey cabbie
I'm calling you cabbie
I'm coming, be right there
He won't know their names
He won't know where they come from
Or where they go
He only knows
They'll be in love
This close to the dawn the ones that come to ride with him
All we seem to be helplessly in love He'll take you around the park if you will though the night is still He'll find a breeze to call your own
(never leave me)
(never leave me)
He'd be happy too
(never leave me)
(never leave me)
He'll take you around again while you're young
Take you to the stars that shine upon Manhattan Tower
(never leave me)
(never leave me)
He'll take you around again ooh, ooh, ooh
He won't know their names
He won't know where they come from or where they go
He only knows they're so in love (Hey cabbie)
They're so in love, they're so in love
Hey cabbie, hey, hey cabbie
They're so in love
Hey cabbie, hey cabbie
