

I Really Miss You

Paul Anka

I really miss you, will forever more.
Let me say the things I used to say before.
Always on my mind, I tell myself that I'm only wasting time away
From you, it's true.

I need to kiss you, not here at the guard
'Cause I still feel the things I used to feel before.
There's no wrong or right, there's only after night,
If you turn off the light, I'll know which way to go with you.

I was a fool to try to break on love
I was a fool, too blind to see.
No, I won't make the same mistake, my love,
If you come back to me.

I really miss you, will forever more.
Let me say the things I used to say before.
Holding you like this, the memories with each kiss,
Tell me why I miss you so.
I can't let go of you,
I can't let go of you.

I won't make the same mistake, my love
If you come back to me.

I really miss you, I will forever more.
I still feel the things I used to feel before.
The longer we both wait we turn the hands of faith
One day may be too late
And so, we both must know what we must do.

Do you miss me to?
Can't get over you.
Please don't say we're through,
I'm still in love with you.
