

Together Again

Paul Brandt

I'm just a man on this spinning globe
Who am I What do I know
But I've got a feeling that even when the music ends
Goodbye doesn't say it all

There's another play when the curtain falls
We're all rehearsing for forever but until then

Whoah...oh..oh
I guess That's just the way this old world works
Moments of heaven mixed with moments of hurt
I'll be waiting til we are together again

Every things falling apart right now
But with all of the hope that my faith allows
I'll be waiting 'til we are together again

The time we had was touched by God and I'm thankful but I had a thought
I wondered why something so perfect ever has to end
I fall and pray and screamed out loud
But the silence never told me how
How to keep on living till we are together again

Whoah...oh..oh
I guess That's just the way this old world works
Moments of heaven mixed with moments of hurt
I'll be waiting til we are together again

Every things falling apart right now
But with all of the hope that my faith allows
I'll be waiting til we are together again
I'll be waiting til we are together again
I'll be waiting til we are together again
