

None of Your Business Now

Paul Kelly

Send me no more letters
Nor ask me how I'm going
It might make you feel better
But it's none of your business knowing
It's none of your business now

You say you regret it
And hope we can be friends
You really just don't get it
None of this business can mend
And it's none of your business now

Once we had the real thing
Nothing could compare
But it was really nothing
A hell of a business yeah yeah
And none of our business now

So go and find another
Or write a stupid song
To help yourself get over
You're none of my business - so long!
You're none of my business now

Oh, please don't send me letters
Or knock upon my door
I'm on the way to better
I'm none of your business no more
I'm none of your business now
