

I Love You Still

Pavlov's Dog

You've hurt, you've hurt for so long
Until you, you would just as soon say so long
And I'm waiting here and my hands are tied
By thoughts I had lost, still burning deep inside
And I love you still

I don't know why you, you should hurt me so
All the feeling's gone and so it goes
And I'm waiting here and I want to hide
And I'm waiting my last chance here to see you one more time
And I love you still

And I'm feeling the power of your light
Would you stop and stay all night?
Feeling the power of your love
You outshine the stars above

You've hurt, you've hurt for so long
Until you, you would just as soon say so long
And I'm waiting here and my hands are tied
From thoughts I had lost, still burning deep inside
And I love you
And I love you
And I love you still
