Standing Here With You (Megan's Song)

Pavlov's Dog

Well I lost all I was And it's more than I've tried to be This living here with you And there's no one here besides me And it don't come easy And it don't come too hard But I always wind up Always standing here with you

Things just stay the same People just don't grow so fast And where once I was a child I've found I just can't stay like that

You say it doesn't matter If things just stay the same You say it doesn't matter And then maybe stay the same Or when It really doesn't matter If I really was to blame Really was to blame And sad that it shows
