

We Laughed At Love

Peggy Lee

We laughed at love and oh how so strong we were
We laughed at love but oh how wrong we were
And now how we regret, we laugh at love
That night in June we made such fun of it
That mellow moon, we would have none of it
But now how we regret we laughed at love

We might have been able to capture that rapture with magic
But we were so clever we never could bother or fuss
Twas fun to discover each lover so comic and tragic
Till we found love, laughing at us

So here we are but it's too late for us
We wandered far, love couldn't wait for us
And now how we regret, we laughed at love

Yes here we are but it's too late for us
We wandered far, love couldn't wait for us
And now how we regret, oh now we can't forget
Oh yes, how we regret we laughed at love
