

Babette!

Pepper Rabbit

A better man, a cast away
A ball and chain behind A story told that breaks the walls of a family tree

Oh it happens again just say it always ends On a movie screen, a stolen dream comes a castaway of change

A better place to rest your head
A bed of white cotton
the added dream, a new city
A bed of white cotton

Oh it happens again, they say it never ends
The month of June will come too soon and what wasn't true will break

I tossed and I turned I could not sleep
The voice of a child can make you weak Just say you will speak
The month of June will come too soon and what was not true will break
