6:30 come, I'm waiting on the floor
Waiting for me Mary, no, Mary Tyler Moore
I love her, she love no one else
I say, I could be your master, you could serve yourself

I do this thing, I do, I run inside your brain
I know you can't feel it 'cause you feel no the pain
I say a 1, a 1, 2, 3
Diggity-doo, come and watch

Oh, na, na, na Feels good when it should Oh, na, na, na (Another junkie in the neighborhood)

One lost soul drifting out to sea
But if ya got vanilla style
(Bo, bo)
It feels good, that's understood, but don't forget

No love for pepper posse and I'll make that bet That you ain't got no style, ain't got no reggae And there are words that I just don't say Take a pick, you've got a selection But if you want some of this protection

Oh, na, na, na Feels good, when it should Sit back it takes a while

Listen, there are stories tales and lies Some attract rumors, some attract lies Got this coffee, so bring me your cup One more pot so we can stay up

Understand, that there must be more in this band You think you could, well I know I can So watcha want, paper or plastic?

Take all you need 'cause we're sick of that shit
