

One More Repossession

Perfect Stranger

I told my boss where to get off two months ago today
Now the bills are pilling high and they're hauling things away
They took the living room sofa the cool-aid stains and all
Now my butts down on a hardwood floor and my back's against the wall

One more repossession and I'll be out of debt
But what good is a VCR without a TV set
It's less and less depressing before they come again
One more repossession and I'll be out of debt

Last night I turned in early 'cause they turned off lights
The repo man took my truck in the middle of the night
Things are gone to pieces you know the times are hard
When you have to use your Visa just to pay your Mastercard

One more repossession and I'll be out of debt
But what good is a VCR without a TV set
It's less and less depressing before they come again
One more repossession and I'll be out of debt
It's getting less and less depressing before they come again
One more repossession and I'll be out of debt
Yeah one more repossession and I'll be out of debt